

Writing Cursive o, w, and b

You can see manuscript o and w in cursive o and w. Cursive b looks very much like manuscript b. Begin cursive o with an overhill stroke. Begin cursive w and b with an uphill stroke. Each letter ends with a sidestroke near the middle line. Trace and write the letters.

Handwriting practice lines for cursive letters o, w, and b. The page is divided into two columns by a vertical blue line. Each row shows a manuscript letter, a cursive letter with stroke direction arrows, and a cursive letter with a dot indicating the starting point. The letters are written on a set of three horizontal blue lines (top, middle, bottom).

Row 3: Manuscript b, Cursive b with arrows, Cursive b with a dot.

Remember that o, w, and b join the next letter near the middle line. This changes the beginning stroke of the next letter. Trace and write the joined letters and words.
