

Subject Line: What is Outlier Dual Enrollment?

Body copy:

Outlier Dual Enrollment is a new way for your student to take college courses in high school—and earn actual college credit. In these immersive online courses, your student can practice the skills they'll need for college and the future while learning from world-class instructors at universities like Yale and NYU.

Students get to take a college course while they're still in high school, giving them the experience before they have to worry about applications or loans. And that makes all the difference. Research shows that students who participate in dual enrollment are more likely to graduate, enroll in a 4-year college, and earn a college degree!*

These are real college courses worth actual college credit from the University of Pittsburgh (a top 50 school). Students who have taken Outlier courses have reported successfully transferring their credits to schools across the country—from community colleges to the Ivy League.

We're excited to offer your student another way to prepare for college. Learn more at Outlier.org. Have your student speak with their counselor to become an Outlier.

*Source: Hughes, K. L., Rodriguez, O., Edwards, L., & Belfield, C. (2012). Broadening the benefits of dual enrollment: Reaching underachieving and underrepresented students with career-focused programs. James Irvine Foundation. <https://eric.ed.gov/?id=ed533756>