IS YOUR INSTRUCTION
ALIGNED TO THE
SCIENCE OF READING?

How to Ensure Your Instruction is Engaging

Make Lessons Multisensory

Design lessons that incorporate speaking, listening, moving, touching, and writing activities – anything that will cause students to move their bodies.

Foster Authentic Student Expression

When you give students opportunities to talk about reading to each other and the teacher, you can get valuable insights into their understanding.

Support Critical and Deep Thinking

Engage students cognitively by asking deep and rich questions that cause them to infer, predict, connect, and draw conclusions.
